New Idea In Museums--You Can "Handle Merchandise" Here

By O. J. SMITH
Times-News Managing Editor

Magic Valley has a chance to perpetuate what may be a unique program of science education—one that has attracted favorable comment throughout the nation. The Twin Falls school system currently is involved in studying whether to adopt sponsorship of Norman Herrett's museum and planetarium program, and the progress of this study is something which everyone in the area should follow with interest. At stake is whether one man's advanced thinking and ideas can be utilized to establish a learning center that would greatly enrich the educational and cultural climate of the area.

All of the people directly involved realize the possibilities and are working hard to find an acceptable way to turn a private operation into a public attraction of even greater value.

There are problems to be solved—financial, jurisdictional and a host of others. Because they can foresee great value in the project, school officials are going slowly, step by step, to try and avoid complications that might scuttle the whole idea.

Meanwhile, Mr. Herrett is continuing his "one-man" operation of his "baby" and providing a tremendous service to pupils of schools throughout Southern Idaho.

The planetarium and museum are owned by Mr. Herrett's great interest in these fields, and the advanced educational methods now associated with them are a result of necessity, combined with his theories.

The popularity of the planetarium and museum soon took them out of the realm of a true one-man operation. Not having the money to employ "paid staff," he had to figure some other way to solve the problem. Charging the pupils fees for the planetarium, P. 13, C. 1

Johnson To Issue Trade Curb Order

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson plans to issue a trade embargo on Saturday to curb the flow of goods from Rhodesia.

Officials listed this Saturday as the U.S. government's principal legal action to curb the flow of goods from Rhodesia.

From a foreign policy standpoint, Johnson administration officials are looking for a realistic way to help Britain put more pressure on Rhodesia's white-minority government.

Romney Eyes Growth Of Popularity

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W.Va. (AP)—Michigan's Gov. George Romney said today that he is looking for a Republican nomination.

The GOP front runner said he was going to set up an organization to help him decide whether to run for the White House.

While Romney said once again that he still was exploring the question, there seemed little doubt the exploration would end with the Michigan governor in the presidential race.

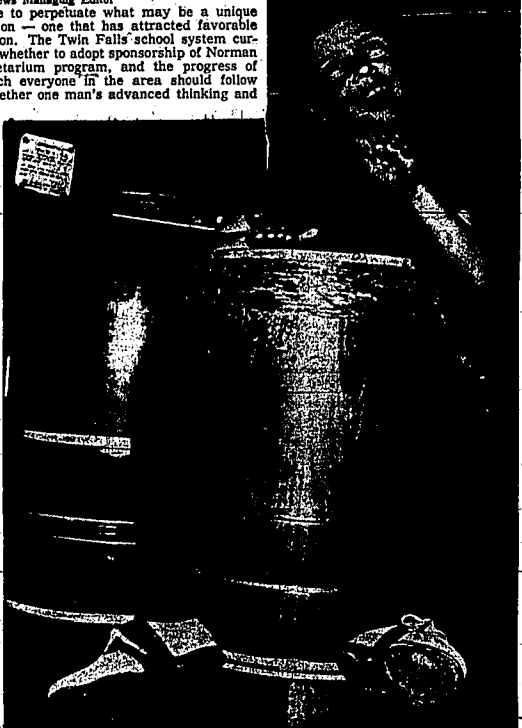

He said he had moved ahead faster than I had anticipated, he told a news conference today. "I don't see how any red-blooded American could be other than honored and pleased (by the figures)," Romney said.

Special Christmas Services Are Planned By Twin Falls Churches

Residents from throughout Twin Falls and Magic Valley prepared this week to worship and give praise to a child born in a manger almost 2,000 years ago.

Children and adults will raise their voices in hymns and carols, some of antiquity, some as new as this holiday season.

Most Christian faiths throughout the world have special Christmas services to honor the Christ child. Here

Education Unit Sets Recommendations

By JIM ADAMS
BOISE (AP)—Summer kindergartens, terms for creation of state colleges at Boise and Lewiston and educational television were included in State Board of Education recommendations Saturday to the 1967 legislature.

With the recommendations was a $11.4 million budget request—nearly 25 per cent above present spending—that also would finance greater technical and vocational education. But the board recommended against consolidation of all Idaho colleges and universities into one university of the State of Idaho and approved none of the requests for salary increases for professors.

Integration of Boise College into the state system was recommended on condition sufficient money is appropriated for it to meet demands of a state college—and providing title of building is turned over to the state.

The board said it would favor no state support for Boise College until the institution's present dual role as a junior college and a four-year institution is clarified.

The board also—conceding to the legislature's "mandate"—agreed Lewis-Clark Normal School in Lewiston might be a four-year institution, but only adequate funds are appropriated.

Gil Carboni, coordinator of higher education, told the board Lewis-Clark would need nearly $1.75 million.

The education board has favored dual junior college status for Lewis-Clark through two legislative sessions that a p p r o v e d See EDUCATION, Pg. 2, Col. 6

The five trustees will be selected from seven candidates who submitted petitions before the Dec. 10 filing deadline. The terms are for two, four and six years.

The only unopposed candidate is John Coleman, incumbent from Twin Falls, running for the single six-year term.

Competing for the two four-year terms will be D. L. Pace and Eldon Evans, both Twin Falls, and Robert Blasko, Fl. Mr. Evans and Mr. Blasko are both incumbents. They were appointed in Dec., 1965, by the State Board of Education.

Treaty Banning Nuclear War In Outer Space OK'd By United Nations Group

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. General Assembly's main political committee approved unanimously Saturday night a treaty to ban outer space as an arena for nuclear war. This would be done by outlawing the orbiting of nuclear weapons, and use of the moon and other celestial bodies for military bases.

By its action the committee forwarded to the 122-nation General Assembly a resolution commending the treaty for signature by all the nations of the world.

After the assembly acts on Monday, the treaty, reflecting a major U.S.-Soviet agreement in the overall field of disarmament, will be open to signature and ratification in Washington, London and Moscow.

It will become effective with the ratification by five governments, including the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union.

The resolution asked the widest possible adherence to the treaty, already hailed by President Johnson as the most important development in arms control since the limited nuclear test ban treaty of 1963. Johnson announced U.S.-Soviet agreement to the outer space treaty one day ago.

Prior to the vote the United States and the Soviet Union told the committee the treaty represented a milestone in the quest for peace in the nuclear age, but both warned that major obstacles still remain.

The treaty is open to all countries, including Communist China, East Germany, North Vietnam, and North Korea—but a conference on peaceful uses of outer space to be held in Vienna in September of next year has been limited to U.N. member countries and members of its affiliated agencies.

In 17 articles, the treaty provides that outer space, including the moon and other celestial bodies, shall be free for peaceful use by all countries and subject to international appropriation by none.

It forbids the orbiting or stationing of nuclear weapons anywhere in outer space. It bans military bases, installations and fortifications and weapon testing on celestial bodies. It calls for aid to distressed astronauts as envoys of mankind in outer space.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg told the Political Committee that man's earthly conflicts will not be carried into outer space. "We know that not all these conflicts are easily or quickly ended," he said.

Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko said the treaty was important because "the day is not far removed when man's outer planet will set foot on the surface of the moon." He said it would "contribute to insuring peace on earth."

Mrs. John F. Kennedy, widow of the late president, was to join the senator and his party at Sun Valley but she canceled her reservations Friday.

Christmas? Ooo, My Aching Feet

By CATHERINE TATE
Times-News Staff Writer

The season of good cheer and fellowship reigns in full force as Christmas music and gentle first-person gift suggestions fill the air, but most Christmas shoppers know just what their feet feel like.

Their feet should hurt it nothing more than a confirmation of the American Podiatry Association's prediction that Christmas shoppers will hike an estimated 25 miles apiece before the season ends.

In crowded stores, particularly at bargain counters, shoppers' feet are subjected to the same rigors experienced by football players involved in the roughest tackles imaginable, the association says.

Worse yet, being an athlete doesn't help much. The APA says that Christmas shopping is much more demanding physically than many sports.

Nonetheless, aching feet apparently aren't keeping Twin Falls area shoppers from shopping. A spot survey of several department and variety stores in the area revealed that Christmas volume during the 1966 season is showing a general, over-all rise from that of last year.

The increase, slight as it may be in some cases, indicates that the well-known, but little-known, tight money situation is not having much effect on Christmas shopping.

"Tight money will affect consumer patterns in purchase of cars, real estate and other large items, but it won't bother purchases of clothing, toys and other small-item purchases," says Wesley Swope, assistant manager of the Idaho Department Store. Mr. Swope said that the I.D.'s Christmas season has, thus far, been "much the same as last year."

Shopping patterns at the store have been "spotty," he said, adding that shoppers seem to "go around" in bunches.

In view of the APA's findings, perhaps a shopper with aching feet feels better when in the company of other shoppers with aching feet.

Burt Hulsh, assistant manager of Penney's Department Store, said that Penney's Christmas volume "is up from that of last year."

"We always pray-for-snow-during-the-Christmas-season because cold weather seems to encourage shoppers to get Christmas shopping out of the way—it serves as a reminder that the Christmas deadline is nearing, I guess," he said.

BOISE—The Idaho Parks Department will prepare a master plan for development of recreational facilities in the Payette Lakes area at McCall "as soon as personnel are available."

The State Parks Board ordered preparation of the plan at its quarterly meeting Saturday.

Other Saturday action before the board's adjournment included approval of a small land exchange in Mary Minerva McCroskey Memorial State Park.

Board members also met with Magic Valley residents who pointed out the recreational potential of the Magra Springs area on the Snake River.

Parks Director Wilhelm Becker told the board that campground roads were almost complete in three major new Idaho parks projects and contracts were being awarded for construction of buildings.

Becker said construction should begin at Indian Creek, Heyburn and Ponderosa Creek States.

Three Injured In Accident Near Ketchum

HAILEY—Bruce Rathke, 17, Hailey, and Robert E. Turner, 29, Ketchum, were hospitalized at Sun Valley Hospital with injuries received in an automobile accident at 2:45 p.m. Saturday.

Another person was treated and released.

According to Idaho State Patrolman Larry Platt, the accident occurred when the Rathke vehicle, a 1957 Rambler stationwagon, collided with a 1954 Rambler stationwagon driven by Mr. Turner as Mr. Turner attempted to make a left-hand turn into the driveway of his home, two miles south of Ketchum on U.S. 93.

Mr. Rathke, who was accompanied by his sister, Susan Rathke, 16, was traveling north on the highway.

They were all taken to the Sun Valley Hospital, the officer said, where Miss Rathke was treated and released. Mr. Rathke was treated for bruises and cuts around his head and Mr. Turner sustained a broken leg.

FFA Names Committees At Hagerman

HAGERMAN — Program of work for the Future Farmers of America was set up at a meeting of the unit Wednesday evening.

Committees named for projects were Dick Miller, Greg Gaston, Mike Madarieta, Pat Madarieta, John Elliott, and Kenny Clements, scholarship; John Gibson, Phil Jensen, Gary Andrus and Jeff Tupper, supervised farming; Bruce Ascuena, Wallace Akers, Joseph Bright, John Elliott and Ron Ascuena, cooperative activities.

Buhl; Francis Bergin, Shoshone, and Charles Ireton, Wendell. Mr. Elliott pointed out he felt working for a regional trip should be one of the first projects of the newly formed group. Effectiveness of various types of lobbying effort was discussed and it was decided to have the executive committee work out details.

Other areas of concern listed were agriculture, pollution, water resources, industrial, legislative, recreation and tourism, education, membership and public relations.

The executive committee is to appoint members to work on these areas. Representatives attended the final organization meeting from Burley, Murtaugh, Kimberly, Twin Falls, Ketchum, Gooding, Bliss, Paul, Wendell, Shoshone, Jerome, and Burley. But Bliss reported their local chamber or civic group to which they belong had voted to affiliate with the South Idaho chamber.

Small Firms Need More Advertising

BOISE—Most small businesses would profit more from sustained, rather than "one shot" advertising, according to Vio Goertzen, Management Specialist, Boise, Small Business Administration.

A new SBA leaflet, "Measuring The Results of Advertising," warns that too often the small shopkeeper's hit-or-miss attitude towards advertising destroys its effectiveness and actually wastes advertising dollars.

"Because his budget is usually limited, the owner-manager of a small firm must get the greatest value for his advertising dollar," Goertzen stresses. "He must make certain his expenditure accomplishes the job he intends it to do."

Careful advance planning, budgeting, scheduling and evaluation," Goertzen emphasizes, are primary controls which can materially increase advertising effectiveness and value.

Spot ads, he says, may be effective in promoting special sales, or events, but they do little to build a firm's reputation. In the long pull, continuity and sustained promotion by using the store's merchandise, service and name before the public, is the means of building a reputation and assuring greatest return for dollars invested.

The free folder discusses many ways advertising can be effectively developed in a more effective program. It is No. 121 in SBA's series of Marketers Aids. A copy may be obtained by writing the Small Business Administration, 218 North Eighth Street, Boise, Idaho 83702.

Winners of Kiwanis Club Debate Named

Curt Thomsen and Kathy McGuiness were declared winners of the Fourth Annual Debate sponsored by the Twin Falls Kiwanis Club, Friday at O'Leary Junior High School.

Thomsen and Miss McGuiness, ninth grade speech students, debated "That the sale and use of firearms should be under more stringent control for protection of our people." They presented the affirmative side and Connie Beeson and Steve Blake presented the negative.

Armour Anderson, Kiwanis president, announced the winners and invited them to be the club's guests at a luncheon.

Dr. Arthur Franz, Larry Harvey and Mr. Anderson were judges. The young people are students of Mrs. Elizabeth Sickles, speech instructor at O'Leary.

Christianity Is In Last Days, Declo Man Contends

Editor, Times-News: "God is Dead." Is a phrase that has been heard more than once in our generation and cannot be regarded as just wild speculation of an idle mind. This phrase describes a true picture of reality. To many people the words resounding from the pulpit are meaningless and strike no chord in their hearts. Christianity and Communism, being opposites, will come together with far-reaching effects to both, whether they fight in war or not. Christianity as we know it is in the last days. Dear though we may hold it to our hearts, it, too, must obey the law of change that is the very essence of life.

Writer Wonders If Japanese Attack Taught U. S. Lesson

Editor, Times-News: The Times-News quoted Secretary Paul H. Nitze saying "twenty years ago taught the United States an unforgettable lesson," but has it?

Again quoting from the same paper Hursband E. Kimmel said FDR was the architect of the whole business.

The Roosevelt administration reminds us of an old man who wrote his son asking for financial aid. After several days meditation the boy sent the money. The next day the boy was informed the old man was dead.

When inquiring about his father's death the undertaker said "starvation." "I wrote a letter and sent some money," said the boy. "Yes, he got it," said the undertaker, "but it came too late."

If the press would have published the letters written by Admiral Kimmel, General Short and Ambassador Gerard, we wouldn't be in this mess and it would be too late, and if the press would have discredited FDR as it did Sen. Burton K. Wheeler, Charles Lindbergh and others that were trying to keep this nation out of this, it would be a different story.

Pearl Harbor was only the be-

Writer Suggests Career As Employee Of Government

Editor, Times-News: In 1950 Horace Greeley originated the phrase "Go West, Young Man." Times have changed, if you don't have the money to go into business on your own, the writer suggests that you consider a career as a civilian employee of the federal government, since it is the nation's biggest employer, and the number is on the increase.

Most civil service positions are filled through the Federal Service Entrance examinations, which are competitive, with veterans getting preference. The Twin Falls post office can furnish information about examinations that are open.

The following is taken from the "Federal Salary and Fringe Benefits Act of 1950." This act sets up the pay schedule for employees in which there are 18 basic pay grades; within the basic grades are "steps" or "rates" of a grade in which the employee receives within a grade pay raises periodically.

The salary for GS-1 grade is $3,609 with steps of $122, the maximum pay is $4,707. The minimum salary of GS-5 grade is $5,331 with steps increasing to $170, the maximum salary is $6,915. The minimum pay for grade

T.F. Writer Goes On Record About Urban Renewal Plan

Editor, Times-News: "Voices" tell me that Sherwood Forest was a beautiful place and drawings in the Nov. 11 Times-News showing a "renewal" inspired the name, Sherwood Forest, for the project. Meandering Main Avenue, curved brick walls, trees, flowers and deer—beautiful. But cruel facts intrude into the dream of Sherwood Forest.

Fact: The average time to completion of an urban renewal project is 8 years. You don't believe it? Look up the statistics.

Fact: While Sherwood Forest is being "renewed," the properties are off the tax rolls. Someone has to pay the missing taxes for 8½ years. Who? You. How? By sizeable tax increases.

Fact: Will the merchants ejected from Sherwood Forest return after 8½ years? Some will be out of business (Some ruined by forcible displacement and by confiscation of their property.) Others will be firmly established in shopping centers they have to go somewhere while the area is demolished.

Will they return? Who will inhabit Sherwood Forest?

Fact: Urban renewal gives control to the planners over any property in town, not merely Sherwood Forest. Read the fine print in urban renewal set-ups.

However, facts don't matter since you have no vote on urban renewal. You might as well state your legislators why they passed an urban renewal act depriving you of the vote. In Utah people can vote, and they have—turned down Sherwood Forest in Salt Lake City and Provo after they studied the pros and cons. Here you receive only the pro side, but it matters not since you can't vote. Hence this letter is merely a matter of record. Having seen urban renewal in action elsewhere, I go on record as protesting.

Man Encourages Filing On Government's Desert Land

Editor, Times-News: The answer to the question of why the government has not sold the more than 3,000 desert entry applications now pending is simply this: a few large corporations are behind the filing on the bulk of this land. The government has found fraud with one of these corporations and two others are under investigation. I feel as most of the government officials do, that 320 acres per person is satisfactory. This means that a man and wife team can get patent to 640 acres, which can provide an ample living for the family. Governor - Elect Samuelson

Colorado Project Is Pointed Out By T.F. Couple

Editor, Times-News: Hursband for Grand Junction, Colo.: The citizens of their city of approximately 22,000 population lacked their downtown redevelopment program of 34 blocks without urban renewal or any other outside aid. They have demonstrated a great confidence in private enterprise.

Let's make the inviting atmosphere of Twin Falls second to none; but let us also take into consideration the facts that our Government also regulates that which it subsidizes, and that the unanswered question will be which property will the finger of eminent domain point at next saying, "you will get what I will pay for your property regardless of its worth to you."

How many of you readers share our feeling, so well expressed in a slogan we read some time ago, "please, Uncle Sam, we would rather do it ourselves."

The 24-minute, 16mm color sound film entitled "Operation Foresight, A New Heart for Grand Junction," is the story of the first downtown shopping park which has won international fame for its beauty and functionality.

We will be happy to furnish this film to any group or organization in the Times-News, Dec. 15, that only 150 acres is allowed per person. This is not true. I for one, feel the 20,000 acres or more as some corporations have filed on is a little more than 320 acres allowed per entry. The government, it seems to me, has no choice but to cancel all entries other than individuals and family units.

Don't let any one tell you these 640 units are not feasible, because they are. You can lift the water up to 700 feet and still develop this land for around $100 to $150 per acre depending on how long your pipeline is.

I would surely encourage individuals to file on this land, because individually filed units would be for the betterment of the state. After all, Idaho belongs to all of us not just a few.

Proposed Atom Smasher Holds Key To Harnessing Powerful Energy Source

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) The government's proposed atom smasher may hold the key to whether science can ultimately hope to tap a hypothetical source of energy vastly more powerful than that loosed by hydrogen bombs.

Such a titanic force could come from still-undiscovered particles called quarks.

Some physicists believe such particles exist within the nuclei, or hearts, of atoms and that they constitute the long-sought basic building stones of all matter in the universe.

Indeed, these physicists say, the hypothetical quarks may even be the key to the basic forces of nature, such as gravity.

They long have said that the possible existence of this particle is a prime reason why the United States should build a proposed $150 million atom smasher, the Fermilab, at Batavia, Ill., was selected Friday as site of the device.

The Atomic Energy Commission has neither confirmed nor denied that its huge machine might settle once and for all whether quarks exist. But its scientists have indicated repeatedly that a machine of such energy, 200 billion electron volts—BEV, would for an indefinite time offer science its most powerful tool for tapping the secrets of matter.

The atom smasher is designed to explore the fundamental forces of matter by accelerating subnuclear "bullets"—such as protons and electrons—to speeds approaching the velocity of light—186,000 miles a second—and imparting tremendous energies to them.

The projectiles then crash through the nuclei, or hearts of atoms, of various target chemicals.

The Weston machine would be a system of four different accelerators, one feeding another in series.

In each of the first three units of the system, the subnuclear projectiles—protons—would be successively sped to higher and higher energies by magnetic and other forces.

Then, the "bullets" would be injected into the main ring measuring a mile in diameter.

The main ring—called a synchrotron—would consist of a ring of 500 magnets surrounding a slender vacuum tube about the size of a man's arm. The tube would comprise the "race track" for the projectiles.

The entire device would be covered by at least 20 feet of earth as a shield against radiation leakage. The general public would not be allowed within 500 feet of the machine. Heavy

Filer Man Will Be Soloist For Oratorio In Boise

FILER—Roger Vincent, Filer, well known Magic Valley vocalist, will appear as soloist with the Boise Philharmonic Symphony and chorus Monday night in Boise.

He will sing the role of King Herod in the presentation of "L'Enfance du Christ" (the infant Christ) by Hector Berlioz. The oratorio, directed by Jacques Brouman, will be sung in French at the Capitol High School auditorium at 8 p.m. Monday.

Vincent said the oratorio relates Herod's insane fear for his throne and his dream which constantly haunts him that a newborn child will eventually deprive him of his power.

This results in his order that every child under 2 years of age be put to death. Mary and Joseph are warned by an invisible angel to flee with the infant.

Vincent has appeared as soloist at many musical events throughout the area and directed the "Messiah" in Twin Falls last Sunday.

ROGER VINCENT

... Filer, will be guest soloist in the presentation of "L'Enfance du Christ" in the Capitol High School, Boise, at 8 p.m. Monday, with the Boise Philharmonic Symphony and chorus.

TIMES-NEWS BOOK REVIEW

WINSTON S. CHURCHILL

Vol. I. Youth, 1874-1900
By Randolph S. Churchill

At the present time, three men of our time have a common fascination for authors. There is a never-ending procession of books about John F. Kennedy, General de Gaulle and Winston Churchill. Of these, the inexhaustible source of material is Churchill.

Any way you look at it, here is a tremendous career. He was elected to the British Parliament the year Queen Victoria died. He was a soldier, a journalist, an author, a politician, a statesman, and the leader of the British Empire in its last great hour.

He was always a controversial figure; even in his family life as a boy. He was related to half the titled families of England and Ireland. His father was famous for his failures. Now-a-days he would be under psychiatric care.

His mother was a famous and shallow, American beauty who ranked high amongst the beauties who surrounded King Edward VII.

Winston-Spencer Churchill was an extraordinary man with an extraordinary background. Present-day educators and psychologists would recognize the young Winston as a genius. To his Victorian parents and teachers he was a trouble-some boy.

His father, who seems to have always been on the verge of insanity, seemed to have disliked his oldest son as a rival male in the family.

Lady Churchill, selfish and extravagant, only paid attention to the boy when it seemed necessary to scold him.

The first half of this book, the first of five volumes, deals largely with the relationship between Winston and his highly unsatisfactory parents.

It is interesting to see that difficult as they were, the boy was never afraid of his father and mother. He seems to have had great affection for them. He was always ready to argue with them and to justify himself.

Early in his life, Winston decided to be a success. He was not sure in what field, but he was sure he would be. Also, he must make money.

His family might be members of the highest aristocracy but they were poor. Lady Churchill threw away a large fortune left to her by her American father.

By temperament and from necessity, Winston was a climber. He had powerful family connections; his parents knew the right people. Winston made use of all of them.

Trained for the army, his connections saw to it that he progressed. When he left the army, his career as a journalist reporting the Boer War was spectacular. His escape from a Boer prison made him famous.

Winston Churchill was largely self-educated. He early developed an interest in politics, and he studied hard for a career in parliament. His letters to his mother, who couldn't have stated less plainly show the development of his knowledge of men and events. This part of the biography ends with his election to parliament.

One of Winston Churchill's successful books was a sympathetic biography of his father, the most unsympathetic Lord Randolph Churchill.

This definitive biography of Winston is being written by his son, Randolph S. Churchill. The first volume makes one anxious to read the rest of the series. The author has, of course, access to family papers that are not yet available to other biographers, and he quotes from them frequently and at length. However, he has a keen eye for what will interest the reader.

hour museum program, but the money derived some time, but only two have become directly involved.

Prior to that it would have been usually by the schools to propose taking over for their benefit what actually is the private creation of an individual.

However, when Mr. Herrett began looking around for help in expanding and perpetuating his program, the schools were a logical place for him to wind up.

It still is not just a matter of the schools taking over and saying, "Thank you, Mr. Herrett, they first have to determine that the actual value of the facilities to their educational program will be enough to warrant them taking on the responsibility of maintaining it.

Construction would be involved to provide proper housing for an expanded program. A continuing expense would be salaries of a staff for the museum and planetarium. There would be the expense of adding equipment and facilities for maintaining the facilities.

All this would be an added item in the school budget, but all that can be paid by the taxpayers.

Some federal funds are available, but these don't come without strings.

Right now the federal government has approved some $25,000 for the museum program but all it can be used for is to study the setup to determine whether it should be taken over as a school function, and to plan how it can be done if the answer is "yes."

As for construction, experience indicates that there is considerable reluctance on the part of those in charge to let any school funds go for strictly construction purposes.

The federal government, if it is decided that there is considerable reluctance on the part of those in charge to let any school funds go for strictly construction purposes.

The federal government, if it is decided that there is considerable reluctance on the part of those in charge to let any school funds go for strictly construction purposes.

Mr. Herrett's solution to his staff problem was an inspiration. He decided to train some of the brightest scientific minds available in classes of local schools to handle the program for him.

The enthusiasm with which the students chose accepted this idea made the plan a success. And to carry the idea even further, these students subsequently trained others, in a continuing program to provide manpower to carry on planetarium and museum activities.

This has at least a triple value. Not only do the students develop and learn more about their chosen scientific interests, they also get a maturity and responsibility in accepting responsibilities and in thinking for themselves.

In addition, there is the benefit of having these trained youngsters explaining the museum and planetarium offerings to the visiting pupils. Being of the same generation can get a lot more across to the visitors than would come through in the lecturing of most adults.

Visiting the Herrett's realized is not like going into the usual museum, where all the items on display are locked under glass cases or chained off with "No Handle the Merchandise" signs.

Children go through the Herrett facilities, realize that they are encouraged to handle many of the items, they are encouraged to use a number of them as they go to whom they originally belonged used them.

For instance, there is the Indian food exhibit. The children are encouraged to taste Indian food not found in our stores and are instructed as to where they were obtained by the Indians and where many of them may be found yet today.

They also get a chance to use actual Indian stone grinding equipment to grind samples of their grains and corn into the same flour that was the staple of the Indian diet. And while they are doing this, Mrs. Herrett already has prepared samples of the stone-ground flour into little cakes which are distributed to the visitors to eat.

And there is the musical exhibit, containing examples of primitive marimbas or xylophones and various types of drums and flutes.

The children are allowed to play the drums and other instruments, to learn a little about doing what the Indians did.

The entire museum program is presented to visiting pupils in a sort of story. It is presented at the start by illustrating to them what a civilization several thousand years ago was now might think of "artifacts" they turned up that are common items to us today—how their might be misinterpreted, and how, because of this, those people of the future might get a completely false idea of what kind of people we were and of the kind of life we led.

The success of this type of presentation and the ideas incorporated in the museum and planetarium program, is evident in the pounds of letters Mr. Herrett gets with thanks from those who have visited his establishment.

His mail from appreciative visitors is so voluminous that he doesn't keep track of it by number, but he just wears it.

In addition, he has received letters from educational and scientific leaders throughout the nation complimenting him on

WOMAN URGES RESIDENTS TO VOTE TUESDAY

A Twin Falls woman has urged area residents not to allow the Christmas rush and cold weather to prevent them from voting in the Tuesday college board election.

In a statement to the Times-News Mrs. Robert Nelson, president of the Twin Falls League of Women Voters, said that "residents of Twin Falls and Jerome counties have the opportunity to express their continued interest in the College of Southern Idaho."

"The response to the bond election in May was excellent," she said. "Now we show that same enthusiasm for our college by going to the polls Tuesday to elect the board of trustees."

Seven men are running for the five college board positions: John Coleman, Twin Falls, is supported by the six-year term. Seeking two four-year terms are Robert Blastock Jr., Eldon Evans and D. L. Pace, all of Twin Falls; and J. H. Shields, Buhl, W. D. Wiseman, Hansen, and John N. Garrahand, Jerome, are running for the two two-year terms.

Twin Falls Club SERVICE PROJECTS

CROWDED DOWNTOWN STREETS are a familiar sight in Twin Falls during the Christmas season. As the season draws to a close, frantic last-minute shoppers cram the stores and gift-wrap counters are currently experiencing what some observers call a "state of siege." It's a wonderful season and one that most look forward to. (Times-News photo)

Cost and shoe sales during December, with a drop in durable goods sales, such as washing machines and furniture, but an increase in wearing apparel sales," he said.

Night and family shopping parties at Sears and Roebuck center," than those of preceding years, he added.

In the meantime, Robert Van Engelen at Van's Department store said that "cold weather and snow remind shoppers that winter's here and with it the Christmas season and they can't let us to remind people that it isn't Labor Day coming up."

Mr. Van Engelen agreed with other observers that the tight money situation will have no effect "on this level."

There are only six shopping days left until Christmas and the traditional last-minute shoppers are urged to hasten as they go about fulfilling the APA's 25-mile-apiece prediction.

By wearing low-heeled shoes, taking five-minute rest breaks each hour and steering clear of bargain counters, their foot list can be lessened and they can look forward to another Christmas season.

To allow for more leisurely shopping, nearly all department and variety stores will observe special 9:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. store hours during the week.

Negro Youth Convicted At Murder Trial

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—A 19-year-old Richmond Negro who testified he would give no reason for shooting the six persons he admitted he killed, was convicted late Saturday of first degree murder.

The Richmond-Hustings Court jury of 11 men and one woman which included two Negroes recommended that Thomas Lee Penn be sentenced to life in prison with no recommendation for mercy.

Penn would be eligible for parole in 15 years under the sentence, but he still has a trial on five other murder charges.

Penn was convicted of the fatal shooting last May 9 of Cynthia Johnson, 16, Penn said he met the girl, also a Negro, on a Richmond street that night, took her into a nearby wooded area at gunpoint and shot her nine times.

Asked by Richard R. Ryder, his attorney, why he shot the girl, Penn replied: "I don't know."

Questioned about his reasons for the other killings, he answered: "I can't give the jury any reason."

The five other victims, both Negro and white, were shot to death between February and May of this year.

Closing arguments narrowed the case to conflicting theories of the youth's mental condition.

"Young people raised on the back of a basket being pushed through a supermarket relate to things that are canned," Wise said.

"There is something ingenious and kooky about the appeal of a dress in a can," said Ben Wechsler, assistant to the president of Wipacelle Sportswear, Inc., which introduced La Canned Dress in November.

"We've been a complete sellout in Canada, and we've sold 100,000 in six weeks. They're in London and Paris, too."

Jack Ruby Is Healing Well From Incision

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Jack Ruby, suffering from wide-spread cancer, is healing well from a limited exploratory incision performed after the killer went from his jail cell to a hospital Dec. 8.

A hospital bulletin said Saturday that Ruby, who killed Lee Harvey Oswald, was resting comfortably.

A drainage tube inserted at the point of surgery in the neck was removed, and the incision was healing well, the hospital bulletin reported.

Surgeons first found cancer by discovering a tumor in Ruby's neck in a nodule in his lymph system.

Other tests indicated that the malignancy was widespread, with one lung a major point of suspicion as the center of the disease. The pancreas is another point of suspicion, but doctors said it would be useless to pinpoint the source of the cancer at this time.

Moscow Will Have Baby Sitter Service

By JOHN WEYLAND

MOSCOW (AP) — Moscow will get its first baby sitter service next year.

Parents in the Soviet capital now have to rely on relatives or friends if they want to go out and leave the children at home. The custom of neighboring girls working as baby sitters is little known here.

With the organization set up, a telephone call will solve the problem. A sitter will come and stay until parents get back.

This is only one of several innovations aimed at making Moscow life easier.

Starting next year the Muscovites will be able to call for a pianist to play at a wedding party.

An interior decorator to give advice on improving the appearance of the family apartment.

A student to tutor a child having trouble with school work.

A dressmaker to alter clothes to conform to the latest style.

Someone to look after the flowers and pets while the family is on vacation.

A cook to prepare food for parties.

A nurse to care for sick relatives.

A small jazz orchestra for private dances.

The paper Evening Moscow, which announced the new services, said it has received many calls from readers which show how great a need is.

The postwar prosperity of the Soviet Union, compared with the squalid days under Stalin, has created demand for services which once would have been contemptuously dismissed as bourgeois.

Prejudice Appeals Are Unprofitable

WASHINGTON (AP) — Appeals to racial and religious prejudice in the 1968 political campaigns were largely unprofitable to the candidates making them, the Fair Campaign Practices Committee said Saturday.

The bipartisan committee is headed by Charles F. Telt.

Ohio and its honorary members include former Presidents Harry S. Truman and Dwight D. Eisenhower.

A code of fair campaign practices drawn up by the committee was signed by the chairmen of the Democratic and Republican National committees and by representatives of Democratic and Republican campaign committees in the Senate and the House.

Sixty-nine per cent of the candidates in 505 races for governor, senator and representative also signed the code. All candidates in Maine signed it and only in Nevada did none of the candidates sign.

"The appeal to racial or religious prejudices seldom paid off for the candidates who use it," the committee said, but was the basis for 18 per cent of complaints handled.

The committee found "a drastic decline" in complaints based on exploitation of religious prejudice since the 1960 campaign in which it said the unwritten law that a Catholic cannot be elected was repealed by the voters.

However, it noted a continuing strong appeal to racial prejudice, which was the basis for 12 per cent of the complaints handled, all of them outside the South.

"The candidates used code words instead of direct racial appeals," the committee said, "and in the majority of cases their racial attacks backfired."

The words or phrases used included "violence in the streets," "forced housing" and "school busing."

In 68 per cent of the cases that involved "dirty politics," the committee said, the candidate involved in unfair campaign tactics was defeated.

The 51 complaints to the committee came from 27 states, with 21 of them being against Republicans, 27 against Democrats and three against other political groups.

Rate Longhorns To 19-0 Victory

HOUSTON (AP) — Texas used the brilliant running of Chris Gilbert and Bill Bradley to riddle Mississippi's mighty defense Saturday and upset the favored Rebels 19-0 before a Bluebonnet Bowl crowd of 67,000. Gilbert and Bradley, a pair of sophomores, ran through and around the Rebels' line, scoring surges that covered 89, 68 and 53 yards. Bradley, plagued most of the season with injuries, raced around left end from the 25 for the first score, and Gilbert plunged over from the one for the second. Bradley then accounted for 40 yards in a final period drive and carried over from the four.

Gilbert set two Bluebonnet Bowl records by netting 156 yards in 28 carries. It was the sixth straight game for him to net more than 100 yards rushing, and Saturday's performance ran his hit game total to 1,234 yards, a Southwest Conference record for a sophomore.

In a near unanimous vote, Gilbert was named the game's outstanding back. The outstanding lineman award went to Fred Edwards, senior linebacker for the Longhorns.

While Gilbert and Bradley were not on rampages, the Texas defense was determined brilliantly against a Rebel team that had ranked third in the nation by limiting opponents to an average rushing offense of 74.1 yards.

The Rebels made only two serious scoring threats. A fumble recovery set up the first chance late in the first period, but Jimmy Keyes' 43-yard field goal attempt was blocked. A 65-yard third period thrust was halted at the Texas eight, about two feet short of a first down.

It was the first time in 17 games the Rebels failed to score, and it was the second time in three years for a favored Mississippi team to lose in the Bluebonnet classic. Two years ago, the Rebels were bombed 16-7 by passes by Tulsa's Jerry Rhone.

Rebel Coach Says Texas Dominated

HOUSTON (AP) — Ole Miss Coach Johnny Vaught said after his team's 19-0 loss to Texas in the Bluebonnet Bowl Saturday that "They beat us in every department. Both their offensive and defensive lines tore us up real well."

Texas Coach Darrell Royal said he was "surprised at everything." He added it was his team's "best defensive effort."

Texas tailback Chris Gilbert, the Houston sophomore who was voted the most valuable offensive player after setting Bluebonnet records of 156 yards rushing on 28 carries said "Everybody made great blocks out there."

It was the first shutout Vaught has suffered in his last 11 bowl games. The last was the 21-0 loss to Navy in the 1958 Sugar Bowl. It also was the first time since 1941 that the Rebels made more than 100 yards rushing.

"What did they have — a total Vaught said."

Gilbert and Texas quarterback Bill Bradley drew Vaught's praise. He said, "They're real tough — a good pair to have on a team."

Humes And Glover Spark CSI To Easy 63-50 Win Over Idaho's Freshmen

MOSCOW — College of Southern Idaho's Golden Eagles piled up a 20-point lead in the first half and coasted into a 63-50 victory over the University of Idaho freshmen Saturday night. With Howard Humes and Clarence (Boo) Glover providing the bulk of the points, the Eagles seized control of the game in the opening seconds and were never in any trouble. CSI will return to local action Wednesday night, entertaining Ricks College of Rexburg at the Twin Falls High School gymnasium. In running their record to 8-1, the Eagles cleared the bench from halftime on. They shot 54 per cent in the opening half and created their lead at 24-14. They were on top 35-18 at intermission.

Rockland Cops Declo Tournament Crown

DECLO — The Rockland Bulldogs, showing the strength on the floor they have on paper, came from behind in the final half Saturday night to drop Grace 65-55 and win the Declo Holiday basketball tournament. Raft River rallied in the fourth quarter to overhaul Declo 66-62 and claim consolation honors. The results gave Rockland an undefeated record while Grace and Raft River were 1-1 and Declo lost both.

Grace opened with a hot hand and shot into a 15-9 first quarter lead. It still had a 30-22 margin at intermission. But in the third quarter Rockland erupted for 23 points while Grace managed but seven.

Declo held small leads over Raft River through most of the first 25 minutes of the game but after a pair of Declo starters fouled out, Raft River jumped in front and stayed there over the last four minutes.

Happiness Is...

Children Star At Christmas Time

By NORMA HERZINGER

Happiness is a child with a shiny new toy, more wearing the latest fashions or pop rolling a 200 game with his new bowling ball.

Happiness is the hustle and bustle of hometown folks preparing for the holiday socials, the togetherness of families during the yule season, the endless supply of energy and ambition displayed by college youth home for Christmas vacation or a visit from loved ones.

Happiness can be any number of things, depending on the individual, with no two persons alike. Happiness this time of year, however, is truly the smile on the face of a youngster and the twinkle in his eye as Christmas morning nears and anticipation grows.

Their letters to jolly old St. Nick have been written and they have, piece by piece, handled, viewed and examined most of the toys and games displayed in the local toy departments.

Most of the youngsters have had an opportunity to sit on Santa's lap during his visits to the local stores and have verbally given him a list (in addition to their letters) to see that there is no mix up.

The line of youngsters waiting to talk to Santa is sometimes very long, but the strong-willed child, the one with real determination and fortitude, will go through that same line several times just to test Santa's memory and be sure his order will be filled.

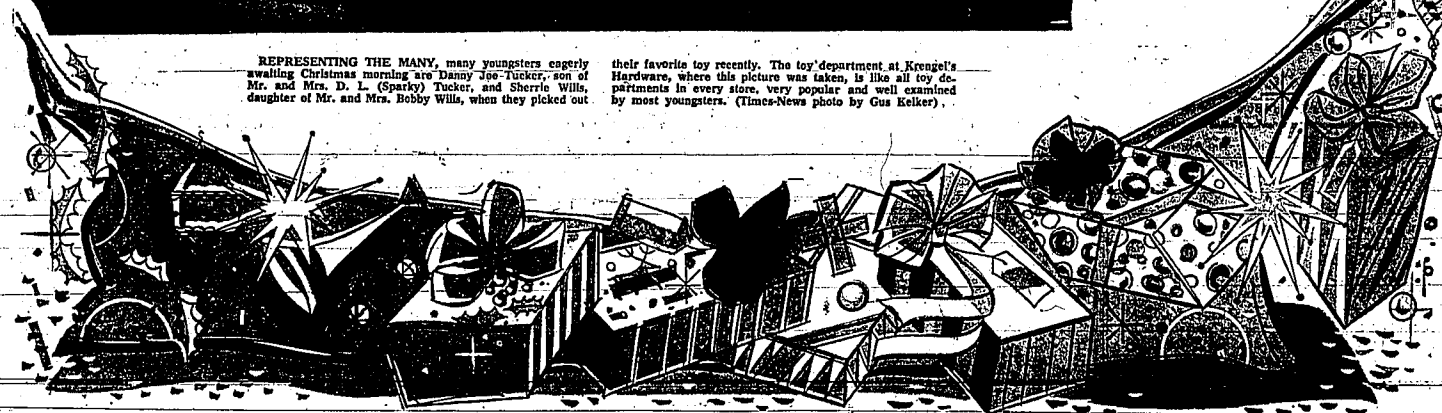

The proverbial "bundle of switches" has been promised to some youngsters who have strayed from the straight and narrow path of behavior during the last few days before Christmas, and many have reformed drastically.

Christmas, a time for good will and good cheer, is often a time of rushing, planning and shopping for the grown-ups, but for the younger set — fun, adventure and happiness.

Anticipation and excitement grow more and more as the big day draws near — and it can surely be said that happiness is Christmas through the eyes of a child.

REPRESENTING THE MANY, many youngsters eagerly awaiting Christmas morning are Danny Joe Tucker, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. (Sparky) Tucker, and Sherrie Wills, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Wills, when they picked out their favorite toy recently. The toy department at Krengel's Hardware, where this picture was taken, is like all toy departments in every store, very popular and well examined by most youngsters. (Times-News photo by Gus Kelker).

ternational Order of Job's Daughters, honored their fathers at their regular meeting in the Masonic Temple. Blue Room with Margie DeLuca, honored queen, presiding. This being her last meeting before the new officers are installed, she also honored her officers and council.

Jan Sinclair, honored queen elect, read the list of her new officers to be installed at 7:30 p.m. Thursday. She then gave the proficiency test to the new initiates.

Birthday anniversary girls were Linda Colner and Leslie McCracken. "Tobe" of the meeting was Janice Cook. Linda Jones and Debbie Thompson received awards for participation in the candy sale.

In honor of the fathers, a skit was given and a hootenanny.

Hospital Guild Sponsors Tea In Rupert

RUPERT — The Hospital Guild sponsored a tea in the lounge of the geriatric ward at the Minidoka Memorial Hospital, with the hospital administrator, Tom Harris, and his wife, as special guests, together with Mrs. Margo Jensen, geriatric therapist, and geriatric patients.

The guild president, Mrs. Lynn Manning, has been in charge of the decorating at the hospital for the Christmas season. She used poinsettias as the decorating theme, and was assisted by home economics students at Minico High School, under the direction of Mrs. Margaret Woodward.

The girls made a wreath for each room at the hospital, as well as large poinsettia wreaths decorating the halls and corridors.

Poinsettias line the windows surrounding the lounge, and white and red poinsettia centerpieces were used at the tea and will be adorning the nurses stations during the holiday season.

The girls prepared small poinsettia centerpieces for tables throughout the hospital.

A large white frosted tree is decorated in red and dominates the hospital waiting room.

Outside are large statues of the three wise men, with spot lights for evening display. Devotion boys, directed by Dave Wheeler, assisted with the outside decorations.

The tea table was centered with an arrangement of red poinsettias and candles. The immediate past president, Mrs. Blain Nielsen, poured punch, and the president-elect, Mrs. Nels Moller, presided at the coffee service.

Mrs. Moller conducted the business meeting in the absence of the president. She instructed the secretary to send notes of thanks to Lloyd Floral, Rupert Floral, Northside Grocery and Lott Electric, for their assistance and donations for the decorations.

Members voted to buy two wheel chairs for hospital use. On display in connection with the tea were handicrafts made by the geriatric patients, and these were for sale during the afternoon.

Missionary League Has December Meet

KIMBERLY—Members of the Kimberly Redeemer Lutheran Women's Missionary League met at the home of Mrs. Layton Warren for their December meeting. The opening devotionalservice was led by Mrs. Rudolph Martens and the meeting topic, "Keeping Christ in Christmas," was led by Mrs. Lee Mathers.

It was noted that families become so involved in the hustle and bustle of Christmas that they fail to prepare themselves spiritually for the birth of Jesus.

It was announced that the clothing for the clothing drive, should be packed and taken to the Episcopal Church in Twin Falls.

The Sunday School children will sing at the next home Sunday and will distribute candy and fruit. The group decided to send boxes to boys in the service.

Hostess for the January meeting is Mrs. Lewis Eilers. Officers were installed.

Dear Abby

In response to the overwhelming number of requests to reprint my TEN COMMANDMENTS FOR 20TH-CENTURY WIVES, which was the forerunner of my recently published TEN COMMANDMENTS FOR 20TH-CENTURY HUSBANDS, I hereby comply:

1. Defile not thy body neither with excessive foods, tobacco nor alcohol, that thy days may be long in the house which thy husband provideth for thee.
2. Putteth thy husband before thy mother, thy father, thy daughter, and thy son, for he is thy lifelong companion.
3. Thou shalt not nag.
4. Permit no one to tell thee that thou art having a hard time of it; neither thy mother, thy sister, nor thy neighbor, for the Judge will not hold her gullible who letteth another disparage her husband.
5. Thou shalt not withhold affection from thy husband, for every man loveth to be loved.
6. Forget not the virtue of cleanliness and modest attire.
7. Forgive with grace, for who among us does not need forgiveness?
8. Remember that the frank approval of thy husband is worth more to thee than the admiring glances of a hundred strangers.
9. Keep thy home in good order, for out of it cometh the joys of thy old age.
10. Honor the Lord thy God all the days of thy life, and thy children will rise up and call thee blessed.

DEAR ABBY: You probably answered "No SNOB" as subtly as you could have, since religion is a good subject to steer clear of.

However, I hope you will add this for "NO SNOB" who complained because a family with nine children came to church in a dump truck, and weren't dressed fancy enough for church, according to her standards.

And to think this person was judging in the home of the Only Judge.

Poor Jesus Christ! If He were to return to earth today, He probably be crucified all over again because of his long hair, beard, and thong sandals. Sign me... NO SNOB.

DEAR ABBY: A few months ago you printed a letter from a woman whose husband had a chance for a better job but it meant moving to another city, which frightened her. You advised her to be a good kid, smile, and go with him.

I felt so smug at the time because I was willing to be moved to our new home.

Now that we are moved I am miserable. My children have regressed to bed-wetting and thumb-sucking, and their school work has slipped from excellent to poor. The sale of our home turned out to be a financial loss, and to complete the picture my husband is very unhappy in his new position. We can't go back.

Abby, some families are just not meant for relocating. Now that I am a bitter, frustrated transplant I have met oodles of women in the same boat. Why didn't I hear their stories before. I think your wisdom was misleading.

DEAR WILTED: When a man is asked to move his family in order to "grow" with his company, it usually proves to be beneficial for all concerned. Since no one has a crystal ball, some moves are bound to be disappointing. But remember, be a sad society if everyone stayed rooted in one place for fear of making a mistake.

I agree, you have had an unfortunate start, but between you and me, "a few months" is hardly a fair period for adjustment. (P.S. Perhaps your husband is "unhappy" in his new job because you are miserable at home.)

How has the world been treating you? Unload your problems on Dear Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

For a personal, unpublished reply, inclose a self-addressed stamped envelope.

For Abby's bi-monthly, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1.00 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

Rev. Harvey At Speaker Meet

"A Star to Follow" was the theme of an inspirational talk given by the Rev. Dr. Robert C. Harvey at the American Association of University Women luncheon meeting at the YWCA.

"There are many stars which we may follow; our problem is in how to choose the right one. It is a call to the spirit that guides us," he stated.

Dr. Harvey was introduced by Mrs. John Carter, program chairman. A special program of two mediators from music was given by College of Southern Idaho students, Velma Guyer and Charles Lassen, accompanied by Bob Thompson.

Mrs. John E. Hayes spoke on the significance of International Human Rights Day, celebrated throughout the world on Dec. 10. Since 1948, when eleven nations drafted a document outlining the basic human rights, the United Nations has observed this anniversary. The document, patterned after the United States Bill of Rights, extends the principles guaranteed in the United States Constitution to the world. It is especially significant in its attention to the rights and dignity now extended to women around the world.

On the serving committee were Mrs. Mary Helen Perry, Mrs. Roger Gracie, Mrs. Frances Schatz, Mrs. Jeanne Alban and Mrs. Vaughn Pond.

Some Sad-Eyed Beagles Will Smoke Cigarettes In Follow-Up Experiment

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer
EAST ORANGE, N.J. (AP) — Some sad-eyed beagles will soon be smoking cigarettes, perhaps for several years.

Some will smoke filter-tips, others non-filters.

The experiment at the Veterans Administration Hospital here is a sophisticated follow-up to a smoking-dog experiment that hit page one of many American newspapers in June.

From the first experiment, Dr. Oscar Auerbach reported that the dogs developed lung tissue destruction, "indicating a pathologically from that found in human emphysema."

The malady — characterized by shortness of breath, which can approach suffocation in severe cases — involves progressive destruction of lung tissue. This results in abnormal distention of the sponge-like lung, a loss of its wondrous elasticity, and an entrapment of life-sustaining air within it. There also is destruction of certain airway tubes.

The chronic respiratory disease division of the U.S. Public Health Service, and the National Tuberculosis Association, prime movers in an accelerated program to combat emphysema and pinpoint its causes, say this:

Emphysema constitutes a public health menace of potentially epidemic proportions — unless somehow checked.

These two agencies, together with many private physicians, say the cause or causes of the disease have not yet been defined. But they contend that tobacco smoking — especially cigarette smoking — and air pollution are among the aggravating factors.

Spokesmen for the tobacco industry concede smoking may be an aggravant, but they challenge any contention it is a proven cause.

Dr. Auerbach, in an interview, went beyond what he said in a formal report last June to the American Medical Association. He said he is now convinced the original experiments with the chain-smoking beagles demonstrated new and unique proof that heavy cigarette-smoking can cause emphysema in humans.

In those tests, 10 beagles, linked to a machine by plastic tubes in their windpipes, smoked up to four packs of cigarettes a day for more than a year.

Auerbach said the findings of the first test constitutes the first experimental animal evidence under conditions simulating as closely as possible the way humans smoke "of a causative link between smoking and human emphysema."

However, critics contended, the smoking method used in the dog tests was not comparable to human smoking conditions.

Auerbach makes plain the forthcoming tests with a much larger batch of dogs — 30 this time — will be an attempt to assess results under a variety of smoking conditions.

"We want to try them on cigarettes of differing constitution, and on both filter and non-filter types," he said. "We'll try varying the number of cigarettes smoked and also explore this question: when dogs give up the smoking habit, is there a reversal (of some emphysema symptoms), as there is in humans?"

Meantime, halfway across the country, other emphysema experiments are under way in the town of Tecumseh, Mich. These will test whether "smoldering" viruses or other germs may be among the causes of emphysema.

The quest stems partly from observations that certain diseases in animals — such as the "Aquine" disease of mink — take years to develop, and are believed linked with slow-acting, smoldering viruses long resident in the animals' bodies, crippling or deforming like arthritis and birth and congenital defects.

And again, Tecumseh was chosen for the original project not because of any unusual incidence of these other illnesses but for these reasons:

— Its population is relatively stable.

— The town is less than an hour's drive from a great research institution, the University of Michigan's School of Public Health at Ann Arbor.

The project was conceived by Dr. Thomas Francis Jr., of the school. He is the scientist who directed the nationwide field trials of the Salk polio vaccine more than 10 years ago.

Biostatistician John Napier, assistant director of the project,

Din In Cairo Sounds Like New Year's

By GARVEN HUGHINS
CAIRO (AP) — In the thundering din of a normal day's trade, in the Cairo camel market, even agreement on a final sale sounds like a New Year's Eve party going full blast.

Presiding over the pandemonium which explodes every Friday and Saturday in the government-run market is portly Abd el Aziz Hamaid, the head salesman. He carries in his head everything you need to know about the camel business.

"In this profession, skin is everything," Abd el Aziz confides. "You can put a thousand camels in front of me and I can tell you the age of every one of them and what price they'll bring just by studying their skins. Don't ask me how I do it. It's something I learned from my father."

About 500 evil-tempered camels pour into the Cairo market every week. All come from the Sudan and there are no "used models" among them.

Like an Oriental Saitanic, Abd el Aziz oversees proceedings from a wooden bench in the middle of the market. Clouds of dust and a very definite odor from milling camels do not faze him as he slips muzzles, the bitter-sweet Egyptian coffee, and figures how to get the best price for the government. Surrounding him are Sudanese camel merchants, Egyptian government officials, advisers and hangers-on.

Pointing to one of the turbaned Sudanese camel drivers who lead the animals across miles of desert, Abd el Aziz notes:

"They're the ones who hold success or failure in their hands. They bring these camels all the way to Cairo in herds, some from as far away as the southern Sudan. They know every wadi, every Khartoum to Wadi Halfa. If they take a wrong turn in the desert and miss one, the whole herd can be lost. But it rarely happens."

At Aswan, the Sudanese camel trains are checked into Egypt through a government clearing station, then shipped by rail to Cairo.

"The guides sometimes arrive exhausted, but the camels always seem to bring the trip well," Abd el Aziz says.

Depreciation, even if you could find it, is not figured in the prices of a camel in any case.

The biggest camel buyers in Egypt are slaughterhouses — camel meat is popular here — the army and tourists.

Prices range between the Egyptian equivalent of $40 to around $125, depending on weight, age and condition.

The slaughterhouse agent looks for a fat camel. The fatter the better. A good, 300-pound, year-old camel can bring better than $115. The army looks for young camels, preferably not more than 5 years old. Tourists usually provide the market for older, thinner camels. When a camel reaches 13, he's in his old age. Few reach 15.

"The army is the toughest customer," one market expert commented. "They don't buy a camel and they don't pay much."

The army uses the camels for its desert patrols. A well-trained camel corps is a main attraction in Egypt's annual military parade.

In buying a camel, a customer never kicks him in the face to test him out and it would be hard to find a camel previously owned only by a little old Sudanese school teacher.

A prospective buyer takes a good look at the camel's skin texture, studies his weight, then gets down to the serious business of haggling over price. There aren't any blue book prices and the haggling can take a lot of time. Abd el Aziz or one of his deputies handles the selling chore, which he carried out in fine Oriental style with appeals to heaven for guidance and justice.

When a deal finally is made, there is some frenzied handshaking, a few good yelps and the business is complete.

Jack Benny, Stays at 39, Stays on Top

NEW YORK (AP) — Jack Benny opened the door of his hotel suite, then quickly retreated into another room and reappeared in dressing gown.

"Forgive me, forgive me," he apologized. "It's this time difference from California. His manager, Irving Fein, who accompanies him on all professional functions, appeared from an adjoining room—and everybody sat down to breakfast."

Benny, whose manner and mien baffle his years-eyed two glasses of orange juice and one slice of Persian melon. "Who gets the melon?" he demanded. In that reluctant, ready-to-get-my-feelings-hurt voice he has developed over 30 years of radio and television. Then he laughed, and said he'd rather have orange juice any way.

Benny, in spite of the fact that his official biography states that he was "born 39 years ago in Chicago," will be 43 in February. And, although in semiretirement from television for two seasons, he manages to be about the busiest senior citizen in show business.

A professional errand of mercy jotted him to New York City time — to be a guest star on CBS' "Garry Moore Show." part of a desperate effort to save the show from sagging ratings.

THE STORY OF THE NATIVITY

By JOHN J. STEWART

"For Unto Us a Child Is Born"

Having received by revelation an understanding of Mary's calling, Joseph became a partner in this divine plan. He would be the foster father, the earthly guardian, of God's Only Begotten Son.

Then Joseph being raised from sleep did as the angel of the Lord had bidden him; and took unto him his wife. And knew her not till she had brought forth her firstborn son.

Mary was thus given the honor and protection of Joseph's name and home.

As the time approached for Mary to have her baby, she and Joseph made plans to travel to Bethlehem, "the city of David," where the scriptures said the Christ Child was to be born.

Bethlehem was a village six miles south of Jerusalem and a hundred miles south of Nazareth. Although the journey would not be an easy one for Mary, she and Joseph were determined to fulfill the word of God in all things.

On their donkey they bundled their bedding, a supply of food, and a few items of clothing. With loving care Mary packed the swaddling clothes she had made for her unborn baby.

They followed the same route Mary had taken several months earlier on her visit to Elizabeth. But now the roads were unusually crowded with travelers, for Caesar Augustus had decreed that a tax census be taken throughout the Roman Empire, of which Israel was a captive part. And many chose to return to their ancestral home to register.

In going to Bethlehem Joseph and Mary were returning to the home of their ancestors also, for they were both of the lineage of David, into whose family the Savior was to be born.

When after a wearisome journey of several days Joseph and Mary reached Bethlehem, they found to their keen disappointment that the town's few housing accommodations were all taken.

In vain Joseph pleaded for a room in which his wife could rest and when the time came, he delivered of her child. The best he could find was a stable.

"And so it was that while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered."

"And she brought forth her firstborn son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes and laid him in a manger, because there was no room for them in the inn."

Here in a lowly stable was the first Christmas, the Christmas of the Ages, the most important birth in the history of the world.

"For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given. . . And his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, the mighty God, the everlasting Father, the Prince of Peace."

Clouds Of Renewed Inflation Hang On Vietnam Economy

By KENNETH L. WHITING
SALON, South Vietnam (AP)

The threat of renewed inflation will hang over Vietnam's economy like storm clouds in 1967.

U.S. and Vietnamese officials expect prices to rise but hope to keep the increases within bounds.

Inflation is tied directly to the massive buildup of U.S. troops which began in April 1965. Wholesale prices have risen more than doubled since then.

One official estimate is that each American soldier adds about $1,000 a year to South Vietnam's economy. This money goes into Vietnamese pockets and is soon exchanged for goods and services.

More than 365,000 U.S. troops are here now and more are expected. The final decision on the number of troops must meet battlefield needs while people on the Vietnamese home front clamor for stable prices.

One anti-inflation tactic is to flood the domestic market with imported consumer goods to absorb excess purchasing power.

This effort has been hampered by snarled conditions in Saigon's sprawling river port. Warehouses have been jammed with goods. Imports slowed by inept stevedoring, inadequate bookkeeping, and pilferage.

U.S. Secretary Robert S. McNamara visited the port in October. Since then the U.S. Army's 25th Terminal Command has been working to improve cargo handling.

Premier Nguyen Cao Ky warns those who interfere with port operations face the firing squad.

Importers are being encouraged to take their goods directly "off the hook" at shipside. Warehouse "fees" are up. Goods in storage more than 30 days may be confiscated.

Some improvement in port efficiency is noted—but much remains to be accomplished.

A crackdown on black-marketeering is accompanying a tightening of U.S. Agency for International Development bookkeeping.

Massive quantities of American goods have been diverted from intended channels into the black market and into Viet Cong

Soviet Leader Brezhnev Knows How To Relax And Keep His Life Private

By HENRY S. BRADSHAW

MOSCOW (AP)

At the beginning of the circus, pretty girls in scanty costumes ran up to the visitors' box and presented flowers to the chief guests.

Leonid I. Brezhnev thanked the first few girls with kisses. Then a few more. And then he made sure that the girls at the back didn't get left out—they, too, got hearty, full-face kisses.

Finally, the general secretary of the Soviet Communist party put on his glasses and scuffed back to watch the circus. His face showed the pleasure of one who finds a circus more relaxing than the famous Bolshoi opera or ballet.

Brezhnev knows how to relax occasionally in one of the world's most powerful jobs, the post of top Communist in the Soviet Union. He likes a good rest and the comfortable living that goes with his status.

Brezhnev will celebrate his 60th birthday Monday. It will not be the occasion for a big, publicized party because Soviet leaders keep their private lives very private from the public.

But, in the European tradition of special notice for birthdays, Brezhnev will have a special party.

He will provide the occasion for public recognition of Brezhnev's importance. His colleagues are likely to add another medal to his collection of honors, and his picture will appear in the newspapers.

The personal publicity of a picture has been a rare thing in the Soviet press since Brezhnev ousted Nikita S. Khrushchev from the job of top Communist 26 months ago.

The new leaders have emphasized the quiet, depersonalized collective face of bureaucracy supreme.

But Brezhnev is clearly the most important bureaucrat. He has worked his way to the summit of a power structure that rules this powerful nation through Communist party ca-has worked his way to the summit of a power structure that rules this powerful nation through Communist party ca-rules. The Soviet Government is merely a tool to carry out the decisions. These decisions are made by the Politburo. Its 11 members include Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, but Brezhnev, as both a Politburo member and the party's general secretary, wields more power.

He can wield it forcefully. Brezhnev's powerful, almost hulking body and his massive face with dominating eyebrows give him an air of primitive authority. His red-faced gaiety, sometimes seen at diplomatic cocktail parties, seems less natural than the ponderously impassive mask usually worn in public.

He can also wield power gracefully. On a foreign trip recently, he was driven around by a Com-unist chauffeur-bodyguard. Arriving at the airport to fly home, he kept the local leaders waiting but all are of the world of Boy Scouting. None is foreign or alien to the scouting world and therefore no such term is used to describe them.

World's Attention Focused On Idaho As Jamboree Site

The busy worlds of business and government as well as the wide world of scouting, over 100 free nations strong, are rushing preparations for the United States' first World Jamboree in a way to make Idaho the most publicized state in the union.

They are Boy Scouts, with no qualifying term and it is a great tribute to the State of Idaho that Idaho's atmosphere of friendliness for all was a major factor in choosing Farago State Park as the world capital of Boy Scouting for the year 1967.

A big, dark, handsome man, ready, snapping up. A campaign is well under way to have special signs and symbols of welcome at all points of entry. The Idaho Highway Department has had the experience as well as a supply of signs and materials used for welcoming the Girl Scouts in 1965, is well prepared.

Another drive is progressing under scout and state officials for placing signs of welcome at entrances by the bus stations, railroad terminals and airports.

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

SUNDAY, December 18—Born today...—You are thoughtful and analytical to such a degree that even as a child you probably gained a reputation for problem-solving. The reputation will increase with the years, and the time may already have arrived when you are faced with more problems to solve than even you would like. Friends and strangers alike will take up more and more of your time as they come to you for answers and suggestions.

All signs point to your being a marked success in your lifetime—but they also suggest that such success may be realized late in coming. A hard worker who allows neither outside pressure nor criticism to sway him, you are a self-starter who chooses his own course and follows through without a thought for quibbling before the job is done. Such drive and determination are sure to be rewarded in the end.

In spite of the fact that you are basically an intellectual, your emotions lie close to the surface. Often it is not easy for you to keep laughter or tears under control when others come to you with their tales of woe; indeed, only your natural sympathy for people allows you to keep your equilibrium and to maintain an appearance of objectivity.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22)—A blow to your financial status should not be allowed to bring a halt to present at-home projects. Seek solutions quickly.

CAPRICORN Dec. 23-Jan. 20—A time for advancing steadily both on the employment scene and on home projects. Keep your eye firmly on your goal.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 18)—You should be able to accomplish much at this time through the charm of your own personality. Don't allow another to get the jump on you.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 21)—Seek only those results that are normal for a single day's effort. To try to do more would be to over-extend yourself seriously.

ARIES (March 22-April 20)—Where your future is concerned, you would be wise to avoid thinking of it too much at this time. You could easily confuse the issues.

TAURUS (April 21-May 21)—Nose to the grindstone today. Make an effort to come to some agreement with co-workers who see things differently than you.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21)—Knowledge, wisdom, and finesse are your best agents today when it comes to deciding issues and settling quarrels.

Student Hoax Admitted In Assault Case

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—An 18-year-old North Carolina State University freshman has admitted tying and gagging himself to test police theories of suicide in the bizarre death of a fellow student earlier this week.

Kenneth Wayne Glasgow of Halifax told Raleigh police he had trussed himself up Wednesday night to test their theories that Raymond P. McCauley may have committed suicide.

McCauley was found strangled in his locked dormitory room. He had an extension cord tied around his neck and was bound hand and foot and gagged.

Pending an inquest, police have speculated his death was suicide.

Glasgow told police he read versions of McCauley's death and did not believe them possible. He said he then decided to try them on himself.

Officers first quoted Glasgow as saying he was attacked from behind in his dormitory room and that he fainted before he could see his assailant.

Glasgow told police that no hoax was intended. No charges were filed.

Candy Becomes Tradition For Holiday Giving By T.F. Couple

By PEGGY LALEY
Times-News Feature Writer.

Many have bemoaned the emphasis on commercialism during the Christmas season—but this holiday still remains a state of mind, not a date on a calendar or a figure in a checkbook.

Christmas is still a feeling of love, the joy of laughter, the glow you receive from giving to others. And if that gift you give is one which has been made by yourself there is even a greater satisfaction.

For the last seven years Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Smout, 808 Alturas Drive, have made and hand-dipped chocolates to give to their friends at Christmas time. This project, which has now become a tradition, started when the Smouts and another couple decided that it would be fun to learn the art of dipping chocolates.

Now each year they make from 1,000 to 1,800 pieces filled with almond joys, French fudge, nut-stuffed dates, candied ginger, Turkish delights, candied cherries and lemon, rum, maple nut and mint cremes as well as chocolate-covered nuts.

An important feature of their boxes of candy is the "turtles" which are the specialty of Mr. Smout. Although he helps with the other varieties, the "turtle division" is his alone and these miniature turtles in chocolate are his creations.

From time to time friends ask the couple to be allowed to help with this project. Mrs. Smout tells about a retired dentist in Utah who thought this candy making would be great fun. When it came time to pour the melted chocolate onto the marble slab, whip it with one hand at the same time you were covering the center with the chocolate, the dentist decided he

Captain Larry Henman Returns From Duty In Time For Christmas

Just back from a tour of duty in Saigon, Captain Larry Henman, commented enthusiastically about the morale of the men fighting in Viet Nam.

"This war is different," he said, "each man knows just how long he will be there. There is no indefinite period of being away from his home and family facing him."

Captain Henman said that living conditions away from the combat areas are good, and even in combat zones the men know that there is no indefinite period facing them.

A group is "cycled in," does whatever job it is assigned and then returns to non-combat zones.

They work long hours and "this is good," Captain Henman states, because they have little time to get too homesick or feel too sorry for themselves. "But, on the whole, no matter what their politics or whether or not they feel the war is justified, they are all working 100 per cent for America."

Throughout the interview, Captain Henman used the word working rather than fighting. Captain Henman was a helicopter pilot with the 120th Aviation Company stationed at Tan Son Nhut Air Force Base on the outskirts of Saigon.

During the first part of his tour he flew 500 combat hours and received 10 air medals, one for every 25 combat missions.

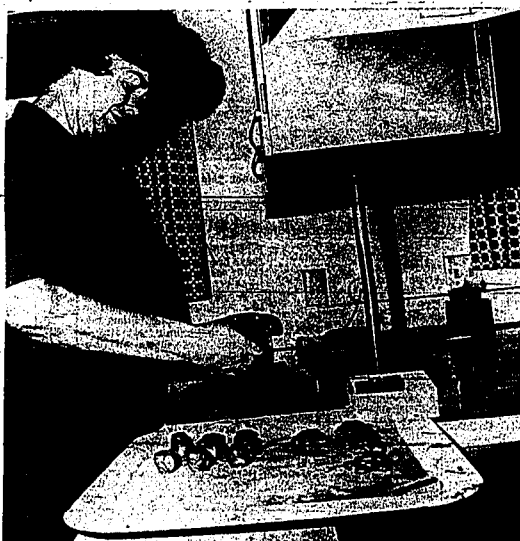

Prior to his return home, he was the pilot for various visiting dignitaries. Among the VIPs he flew as passengers were Vice President Humphrey, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, Gordon M. Bryant, member of England's House of Parliament, and General McKay, leader of the Australian troops.

Captain Henman was also the pilot for Cardinal Spellman when he toured the outposts visiting with the men and saying masses.

While engaged in supply and indigenous personnel management, Captain Henman was awarded the Army Commendation Medal for meritorious service.

In an effort to help the people and the economy of the country, aside from the military aspects, a great many natives of Saigon are employed by the armed forces in a number of jobs created by the presence of the troops.

These Vietnamese are engaged as kitchen workers, maids, secretaries and drivers. Through this additional opportunity (Continued on Page 38)

Captain Larry Henman Claims Morale Of Americans In Viet Nam Is High

...tunity for employment the economy of Saigon has increased greatly.

Captain Henman says that there is a big difference in the rural and city dwellers in this country. Lack of transportation, communication and opportunity has kept the farmers more provincial, more suspicious of foreigners and more attached to the traditional ways of their nation.

In the city the people are becoming more Western in their outlook—dress-and-way-of-living. "It is easy to spot the financial status of the city dweller," Captain Henman says, "the poorer classes walk or ride a bicycle; the middle class are devotees of the motorized bike, which has become a status symbol, and the wealthy own the automobiles."

He says that while the economic structure of Saigon has improved the prices had doubled in the year that he was there. "Of course, in a situation like this the rich get rich and the poor get poorer."

Another program which has raised the morale of the fighting man in Viet Nam is "R & R." This is rest and relaxation which provides each man with at least one opportunity to take five days and go to Singapore, Hong Kong, Japan, Guadalcanal, Taipei, Taiwan, or more recently Hawaii.

The air force provides the transportation, Captain Henman

...went to Hong Kong while he was there and "went crazy over the shopping."

There has also been a savings program instituted for the men that pays 10 per cent interest, and since there is really very little opportunity to save the interest rate is an incentive to saving.

Captain and Mrs. Henman, who is the former Dona Michener, will go to Ft. Sill, Oklahoma, where he will be stationed for the three months prior to his discharge. They have two children, Kamara, 4, and Kirt, 1.

The couple was graduated from Twin Falls High School in 1958. Captain Henman, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Henman, received his degree in business administration from Idaho State College, Pocatello. They have no definite plans for the future following Captain Henman's discharge, but would like to return to Twin Falls.

Moscow—Diana Gray, Hansen, soprano, and Larry Gee, Gooding, baritone, will be among the student soloists in the annual Christmas candlelight concert of the University of Idaho Vandoliers at 8 p.m. Sunday. Handel's "Messiah" will be the featured presentation.

...minute—he went to his home across the street and then returned with a pointed surgical instrument. Thus he speared the centers, and covered them with chocolate without getting his hands dirty. This method, Mrs. Smout hastens to point out, is not really professional even though he did get his chocolates made and had a lot of fun doing it.

Friends like to help and they like the sampling of wares even more. When one guest was asked which kind he liked the best he replied, "whichever kind I am eating at the moment."

The Smouts begin their candy-making about the first of December and just when they finish depends a great deal on the weather. Typical December weather, wet and snowy, is not ideal for the project.

First the centers have to be made. The centers begin as a fondant which is made with whipping cream and are allowed to age for 10 days before being flavored or colored. Then each center is shaped and set aside for the dipping step.

Marshmallow cherries, used for chocolate-covered cherries, must be left at room temperature to "cordial-out." This takes about a week.

Until the day comes for packaging, the goodies repose on trays on every flat surface in the Smout's spare bedroom.

The Smouts pack their candies in boxes which bear the label from the kitchen of Beas Smout. Although they have had numerous requests to sell their confections they say that this is a project carried on strictly for their own Christmas giving.

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

Lenn Nelson, Arco, son of Mrs. Dorothy Nelson, GOODING, is a winner in stock car racing now-a-days. Nelson, formerly lived at Gooding and is well-known in the area, recently won the championship at the Blackfoot Modified Racing Association Class "A" for the second consecutive year. He was awarded a giant 42-inch high trophy for his efforts during the season, and received a similar championship trophy at the Blackfoot Modified race this year. At Blackfoot Nelson also received a trophy for the "most popular driver" which is given to the driver considered to be the most popular by the crowds in the grandstand.

He has also raced at Idaho Falls, Ontario, Ore.; Butte, Mont.; Meridian; Helena, Mont.; and Salt Lake City. At Salt Lake City last year, he won the Intercontinental B Division championship. This was a two-day Canadian - American Modified Racing Association meet which drew entries from Canada and all the northwestern states.

Nelson has been racing for the last 12 years. He won high point driver six years out of the 12, second place for four years, and he has never been lower than third place in points for any year on any of the tracks. He received 10 trophies in 1966 and has a collection of 92 trophies in all.

The thieves said they would have returned the statue to its rightful place, atop a local nativity scene, except for one thing—someone had stolen their ladder.

STIRRING CARROTS: Several gardeners have sent us suggestions for storing carrots over winter.

Here are a couple more tips sent us: "We plant a late crop of carrots for winter use, because we have found that the spring crop continues to grow and becomes too large. They actually grow over winter, and remain juicy and crisp which other carrots do not when stored by conventional methods."

"We cover the ground area with leaves or straw. They survive regardless of the weather. We have removed them in a solid frozen block, but usually place them in a well-protected place, add straw over it and I also make sure there is a cover over the top."

Another says: "Wash carrots and let drain or dry out. Cut no less than one inch off end so they can't sprout or grow. Place in plastic bags in a cool room or basement. They will keep until May this way."

GERANIUMS INDOORS: Many folks don't have trouble starting geraniums indoors, but they do have the problem of keeping geraniums from being tall and sprawly.

Tall geraniums are due to two reasons, lack of light and failure to pinch the plants back. Grow your geraniums in the brightest window possible. Also pinch the tops back to induce bushiness.

Take a sharp knife or a razor and slice the stem off anywhere you wish. Do not discard the top, but start a new plant by inserting the cutting in a pot of moist sand or in a glass of plain tap water. Rooting takes place within three weeks or so and then you can move the cutting into a four-inch pot of soil for growing.

APPLES FROM SEED: A reader asks me if the planted apple seeds would they grow into edible fruit eventually. The chances for getting good fruit from seed are very slim, and I wouldn't bother unless you're interested in experimenting.

If apples will grow from seed, why is it you seldom, if ever, see seedlings growing under an apple tree? I think it's because home owners pick up fallen apples before they have a chance to let the seed sprout. You often see seedlings growing in woods and fields, the seeds having been deposited by birds.

SUNFLOWER NOTES: What is the biggest sunflower in your neighborhood? Here are some giants reported to us: 10 feet 9 inches tall, flower head 18 inches across; one 12½ feet tall, and 12 inches across; and another one 9 feet, 4 inches tall, with heads 8½ inches in diameter. Does anyone have a larger sunflower? And for pumpkins, can you beat these: a pumpkin weighing 123 pounds, 69½ inches around. Another one was 18 inches in diameter, but no weight was given. If you raised sunflowers or pumpkins, larger than these, please write and tell us.

ROSE SEED (HIPS) Jelly: If your roses bore a lot of seeds (called "hips") why not convert them into food? Make some rose hip jelly: one pint of cleaned rose hips; two tart apples; cut-up and unpeeled. Cover with water and cook until tender. Crush and let drip through a jelly bag. Measure two cups of juice and add two cups of sugar and bring to boiling point. Add one-half cup of lemon juice and boil briskly for 15 minutes. Test for jelly after 10 minutes as the liquid toughens if boiled too long. Pour into scalded jelly glasses and seal. It's a good idea to make this amount each time.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK: D. F. of Twin Falls: "We have three pear trees (two barbettes) and each year they bear heavily. This year, for the first time, our pears had a rusty band all around the center of about half of the fruit. Does that mean something is lacking in the soil?"

Roset rings around the fruits

Etchings Are Exhibited By Couple's Son

A one-man show of etchings by Munio Makuch, former Twin Falls resident, is being featured by the Graphics Gallery in Philadelphia, Pa., during the month of December.

Munio, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Takahashi, lived in Twin Falls during the time he was growing up and was at one time a paperboy for the Times-News.

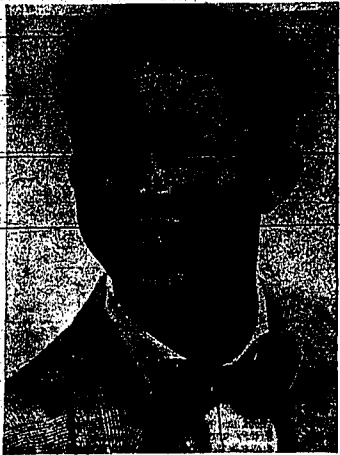

He has attended Valparaiso University in Indiana and received a B.A. degree from the University of Colorado.

According to Mr. Takahashi, Munio began his studies to prepare for the ministry, then switched to medicine. About this time he decided that art held far more interest for him.

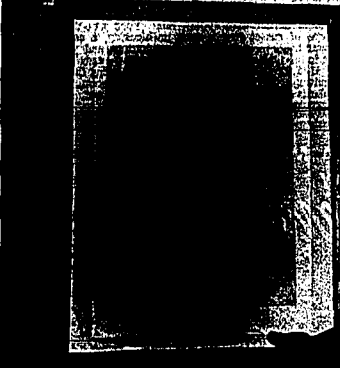

He spent three years of study with M. Lasansky, a well-known printmaker at the University of Iowa, where he received his M.A. degree.

He is now an assistant instructor of art at the University of Pennsylvania where he is working on his Ph.D.

His work has been favorably reviewed by the critics as "charming and tender evocations of line and concept."

Latin America's Oldest Political Dynasty Appears Safe For 4 Years

By ROBERT BERRELEZ
MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) — Tacilio Somoza has lost 40 pounds. Political humorists here assert this is all Tacilio will lose — weight.

They mean that hardly any one expects Tacilio — as Gen. Anastasio Somoza, Jr., is known — to lose in the February presidential elections.

Thus, the longest-lasting political dynasty in Latin America, founded by Tacilio's father in 1932 with U.S. support, appears safe for at least four more years.

Somoza, candidate of the Liberal party, is being opposed by Dr. Fernando Aguero of the Conservatives, an eye specialist. Aguero withdrew from the 1963 presidential contest, leaving the field clear for Somoza's hand-picked choice, Rene Schickel.

A third candidate is Alejandro Abunza, a lawyer, choice of another conservative party which the Somoza opposition derides as a "legal fiction" created by the government party to weaken the larger Conservative faction.

The three are in an election that seems almost like a challenge between two anachronisms.

Nothing more substantial than ancient tradition is at stake. The causes of their basic differences — mostly religious — have disappeared, and there is little to distinguish modern Nicaragua Liberal from Conservative. Newcomers often find it baffling that no other political thought or expression has thrived in this largest of the five Central American republics.

One explanation is that younger, really liberal minds eventually fall prey, through economic necessity, to the traditional parties.

The economy is booming and expanding, but remains largely in the control of the traditional families.

A veteran Nicaraguan diplomat, a Liberal currently put off by the government, defines local politics this way: "A Liberal will drive his car with the windows open to get some air. A Conservative will drive the same car with the windows up to give the illusion of air conditioning."

"Young Somoza's determination to go for the presidency caused ripples of annoyance, even among friends, in some Central American countries. Among some, the main point raised was why make family control of the country so blatantly and unnecessarily open?"

Tacilio, asked more or less the same question, isn't annoyed. The brittle temper has given way to a smoothness that goes well with his new shape.

"Deck the halls with lots of holiday cheer, and let us be merry, for the Lord is here." How often we will be singing this and other Yuletide carols as the time draws near to when we anticipate throughout the year.

Christmas Without Christ

To many, Christmas time has become a holiday that stands out among all holidays as one of generally good cheer, and general happiness. But I wonder if there is a far greater significance to our lives than the trivial monetary enjoyments of the season. It was the Christ that gave us the hope of tomorrow.

conventional means by which an "economy" takes a surge? Or is it a time when we are obliged to buy gifts for others? Let us hope that Christmas has a far greater significance to our lives than the trivial monetary enjoyments of the season. It was the Christ that gave us the hope of tomorrow.

Toastmistress Group Has Yule Meet

Members of the Magic Toastmistress Club convened Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Lea Barnes, Twin Falls, for an informal Christmas meeting. President Mrs. Deanna Vollmer introduced the toastmistresses for the evening, Mrs. Santa Claus, portrayed by Mrs. Ethel Martin. Mrs. Claus introduced the speakers by selecting a gift from her sack and explaining how it fit Mrs. Dorothy Sanborn and Mrs. Vollmer, the speakers. Mrs. Sanborn presented a demonstration on how to wrap Christmas packages, and Mrs. Vollmer demonstrated how not to wrap gifts.

Table topics, under the direction of Karen Morse, were in two parts, education and judged talks. Mrs. Shirley Bolter received the traveling trophy for her short talk on why children should be told there is a Santa Claus.

Member evaluators for the evening were Mrs. Ruth Hansen and Mrs. Alta Strong. Mrs. Alta Jean Davis was general evaluator.

Mrs. Roy Morse, Kimberly, was a guest.

Too Heavy?

TRAVERSE CITY, Mich. (AP) — Businessman Phil Balyeat bought an old empty safe in a building marked for demolition.

Balyeat and two helpers managed to get the safe, which weighed about 850 pounds, out to the sidewalk—but they couldn't lift it aboard a truck. They went for help.

When they came back, the safe had disappeared.

Chamber At Wendell Joins Group

WENDELL — Wendell Chamber of Commerce voted to join the South Central Idaho Chamber of Commerce at a meeting held Wednesday at the Motor Inn Cafe.

The action was taken after a detailed report was given by Edwin McNutt, of a meeting at 30-year-old representatives from the surrounding areas.

Clyde Peterson, president, appointed Charles Irton and James Benson as chamber representatives for 1967.

The new slate of officers for 1967 was read by Bill Howden, chairman, and elected unanimously. Charles Irton as president, J. H. Freeman, vice president; Mrs. Eleanor Freeman, secretary-treasurer; Raymond Turner, Mark Koll and James Benson, directors.

A report was made of the progress by the Northwest Committee representative on the opening of a new road into Magic Reservoir, which is nearly ready for use.

A discussion was held on having an engraving made depicting facts concerning Wendell, so that any merchant may have it printed on the back of his letterheads. This would create publicity for the Wendell area. G. D. Pierce was appointed to make a sketch of the proposed engraving and present it at the next chamber meeting.

The Christmas promotion committee reported that merchants had cooperated almost 100 per cent in their donations. There will be candy for the children and Santa Claus will be in town Saturday.

Special recognition was given to the men who spent many hours in putting up the Christmas decorations. They were Bill Bunn, J. H. Freeman, Alton Johnson, E. A. Taylor, Charles Irton and Edwin McNutt.

Freeman suggested that early next year the city and chamber should concentrate on re-wiring for the season's decorations.

Your Spine and Your Health

By Dr. Ludwig C. Landwehr

GOOD POSTURE is obtained when your muscles hold your body in balance. Check your posture with the simple test. Stand with your back to the wall with head, shoulder-blades, calves and heels touching the wall.

Place your hands at your sides and flatten the hollow of the back by pressing the hollow back to the wall. The space at the back of your neck should be no greater than the thickness of your hand.

Then stand facing the wall with palms of hands on front of thighs, if your chest touches the wall first, your posture is good. If your head touches first your posture is fair and if your abdomen touches first, your posture is poor.

Your Doctor of Chiropractic will ascertain how important good posture is to good health and if your posture is less than good he will help you to correct your postural problems.

Scorecard Needed For Society In Washington

By KELLY SMITH
WASHINGTON (AP) — In this the world's most partying capital, you can't follow the great spectator sport known as Washington society without a scorecard, whether it's a lady losing her petticoat in a White House receiving line or a Cabinet officer losing his dental plate at a formal dinner.

This is a maverick social world. Blood here is not so blue, money is not so private, and almost anyone can apply to enter.

Washington society is diversified enough to include grand dame Alva Roosevelt Longworth and a former Miss America with two sets of false eyelashes.

It's a kaleidoscope of parties, foreign policy, attitudes and beautiful women.

The continuous shuffle of American politics has only the slightest effect. There's a saying that Eisenhower and Johnsons come and go, but Perle stays. He reigns forever, giving parties. Because of her nonpartisan social appetite, they call her "Two-Party Perle."

One cannot assume that because two governments differ, their envious differ. They may play poker together. This is also true of American politicians.

At the White House—Vier-Nam war critic Sen. J. William Fulbright may walk with Mrs. Hubert H. Humphrey, wife of the vice president. President Johnson may kiss Mrs. Everett M. Dirksen, wife of the Senate Republican leader.

The Soviet Embassy welcomes the British, the Finnish, the Saudi Arabians and the director of the U.S. Information Agency. "We wish to improve our relations," says the ambassador's wife, hostessing a fancy reception.

Capital society has two major fortresses: the White House and Embassy Row. These draw upon the swing set, the cave-dwellers, the Kennedys, the State Department, the Texans and the eager public.

The White House is the ultimate. It doesn't make much difference who's there. Presidential invitations are not declined.

The embassies have the opposite problem: It makes all the difference who's there.

If an embassy can snare a Dean Rusk, a Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, a White House intimate or some of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee — in short, those with influence — it's in.

Embassy social popularity is a nebulous thing. It doesn't necessarily follow a country's size or importance. Wit, personality, adaptability to Washington and endurance matter more.

Diplomats tend to emerge identities and lose characteristics peculiar to their country. An Arab diplomat frequently drinks liquor, prohibited by his religion at home. A Latin, austere on the home front, may, thoroughly relaxed, relish a belly dance as after-dinner entertainment.

One year the French are popular, another, the Moroccans. It depends considerably on how much effort—and money—is poured into the pursuit of partying. Some give several parties a week.

One embassy is said to spend upwards of $100,000 a year on entertaining, but refuses to verify it.

The people at the embassy wouldn't understand.

Some ambassadors spend 15 hours a week at parties, but more spend at least 30 hours in socializing. A normal "lounge" includes two receptions and a black-tie dinner each night five or six nights a week.

Popular hosts along the 11th-nation diplomatic set include some from Africa, the Orient, Europe and Latin America. At present, no one embassy appears to be No. 1, as was the case for a time when the Hervey Alphonse, representative of the Congo, was the most popular host.

There's the Marquis de Mery del Val, ambassador of Spain, and his wife, who detests ball-lighting.

Always one to enliven a party, the unpredictable marchioness, once disguised herself as a hat-check girl and haughtily refused to give out wraps without generous tips. "No money, no work," she announced and left in a mock rage—giggling to herself—in her Rolls-Royce.

There's Enrique Tejera-Paris, a Venezuelan banker-ambassador married to a Mexican-born diplomat with a Grace Kelly manner, and B. K. Nohru, ambassador of India, whose artist wife is Hungarian.

The Middle East adds witty Talat Al-Ghoussein, ambassador of tiny Kuwait, and his beautiful, ice-eyed Basma, the young couple from Morocco.

Alfred and Badia Laraki, who feel "too much entertaining is silly." They gave a big party in the king of Morocco's beach tent.

The yeh-yeh cult — the so called swing set — mix freely with the embassy crowd. Being "fun" types, they also appeal to the Kennedys and the Young Turks of officialdom.

The swing set varies in age from 30 to 50. Most are young marrieds with enough money and flare to afford $150 false hairpieces and ball gowns from Paris fashion houses, and attractive enough to frug to "roll over Beethoven" and still look good.

They have something in common with the international jet set in that they travel to New York, to Dallas, to San Francisco to Europe — on weekends. They can and do talk to Hubert Humphrey about politics, Henry Ford about cars, and Robert Vaughn about acting.

Foremost among swimmers is Barbara Hower, 32, a Johnson friend who rode the "Lady Bird"

Special! In 1964, She's been known to wear four hairpieces at once or green and pink knickery to cocktails.

WITHOUT WARNING

YES, WE HAVE HOSPITAL INSURANCE.

...BUT WITH TED LAID UP FOR WEEKS AND WEEKS, HOW WILL WE BUY FOOD? OR MAKE CAR PAYMENTS? OR PAY ANY BILL?

A FEW DAYS LATER IN TED'S HOSPITAL ROOM

THANK GOODNESS YOU'RE DOING SO WELL, TED. NOW YOU JUST LIE HERE AND TRY NOT TO WORRY ABOUT THINGS.

I DON'T HAVE TO WORRY, HONEY, THANKS TO THAT AMERICAN REPUBLIC "DIRECT CASH" PLAN, WE'LL GET A CHECK FOR $157.50 EVERY WEEK I'M IN THE HOSPITAL -- PAID DIRECT TO US!

IN NO TIME AT ALL...

HERE'S OUR FIRST WEEKLY CHECK FROM AMERICAN REPUBLIC. DEAR, IT CAME IN THE MAIL THIS MORNING -- RIGHT ON TIME!

AND THEY'LL KEEP COMING EVERY WEEK, ALICE. IF I HAVE TO STAY HERE IN THE HOSPITAL FOR A YEAR, IT WILL ADD UP TO OVER $8,000. AREN'T YOU GLAD NOW I MAILED THAT CARD TO AMERICAN REPUBLIC?

AT THE HOSPITAL

BUT, DOCTOR, HE'S TOO YOUNG TO HAVE A HEART ATTACK!

"Direct Cash"
Plan, and

If you are under 35, you may just be getting a good start in life. No matter what kind of hospital insurance you have, it won't pay your household bills and other family living expenses. With rent or mortgage payments, new furniture, clothing bills, and all the other expenses young families have, a serious accident or illness might "wipe you out" financially.

If you are 35 to 65, your children may now be at the earliest stage of their schooling—your living expenses are probably higher than ever, and your chances of going to the hospital are increasing every year. Read how an American "Direct Cash Plan" may keep you from having to dig into your savings if you have to spend weeks—or even months—in the hospital.

If you are 65 or over, you can look forward to having Medicare, but you will still have to pay part of your hospital bills—and you will also have other bills to pay. An American Republic "Direct Cash Plan" can provide money for everyday expenses and also for doctor bills and hospital costs—including private room and private nurse—that Medicare won't cover.

Now, whether you are 25...55...or 85...when you are sick or injured...

COLLECT $52.50 ... $105 ... OR $157.50 A WEEK,
JUST LIKE WAGES, WHILE IN THE HOSPITAL

Whether you are under 65 and have regular hospital insurance—or over 65 and looking forward to Medicare—it will pay you to read the facts about the new "1-2-3 Direct Cash Plan."
 Discover how you could go to the hospital and come out with money left over.

What if you should wake up to find yourself flat on your back in a hospital bed—and be there for weeks or even months? Think of all the things that $2,000 or $5,000 or $8,000 in extra spendable cash, over and above your hospital insurance, could mean.

Cash to make mortgage payments. Cash to buy food. Cash to meet car payments—pay for child care—buy gasoline—buy school clothes—pay a tax bill.

The new American Republic "1-2-3 Direct Cash Plan" can pay you badly needed cash every week you are in the hospital, cash for a full year.

This new service of "Americare" is designed to go hand-in-hand with Medicare—or any other health insurance you may now have.

Easy As 1 . . . 2 . . . 3 . . .

Protection under the new American Republic "1-2-3 Direct Cash Plan" is available in individual protection "units."

You simply decide how many of these units you need for your particular coverage requirements—and put them together like building blocks. For example:

The "1-UNIT" PLAN pays you $52.50 per week actual cash (at the rate of $7.50 a day) for every week you spend in the hospital due to accident or illness. This plan can pay you as much as $2,375.50 if you are hospitalized for a full year.

The "2-UNIT" PLAN pays you $105.00 per week (at the rate of $15.00 a day) for each week you are in the hospital—up to as much as $5,475.00 if you should be in the hospital a full year.

The "3-UNIT" PLAN pays you $157.50 per week (at the rate of $22.50 a day) for each week you are in the hospital—up to a total of $8,212.50 if you are hospitalized for a full year.

Your decision is easy. Just choose the plan that fits your needs best. And best of all, no matter which you choose, you get all these advantages:

• Cash is paid direct to you. It is yours, to spend any way you please.

• It is LifeGuarded Protection. This means it is Guaranteed Renewable. It can be YOURS FOR LIFE as long as you make timely payments of the current premium. It can NEVER be cancelled by the Company because of age, health, or number of claims.

• Pays whether you are in the hospital for injury OR sickness.

• Pays in addition to any other insurance carried with American Republic or any other company. Even pays in addition to Workmen's Compensation or Medicare.

• You are covered during any hospital confinement for any accident from the date your policy is issued, and for any sickness that begins after 30 days from date of issue. Unless, of course, your hospital care is due to war, mental disorder, maternity, dental work, or when you are in a U.S. Government or Veterans Hospital.

• NO MEDICAL EXAMINATION, regardless of your age—and there is NO AGE LIMIT.

• Benefits are increased 10% if premium is paid annually in advance, or increased 5% if premium is paid semi-annually in advance.

Protection That PAYS

According to latest 5-year figures, American Republic returned a greater percent of premium dollars to policyholders in claim benefits than any of the other Top 40 insurance companies offering individual accident and health insurance. So, when you own this protection, you have protection that PAYS.
